Prompt Reform of Bodily Evils
The prompt reform of those bodily evils [illegible] feebled digestion, incomplete assimilation, inactivity of the liver, kidneys and bladder, as well as of the nervous symptoms which these ailments are especially prone to beget, is always accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine accredited by physicians, pronounced pure by analysis, and eminently wholesome and agreeable. Surely such a restorative is preferable to unpalatable and indigestible mineral drugs and [illegible] tioned nostrums. The nation at large assuredly thinks so, judging by the unprecedented demand for the article from Maine to the Pacific, a demand now supplemented by immense orders for it received from tropical America, Mexico, the British and Spanish Colonial possessions and elsewhere. Both at home and abroad it is recognized as a standard remedy and preventive, the decisiveness of its effects recommending it everywhere.

CONGRESS ASKED TO ASSIST

Reorganization of the Reading Railroad—The New York Hop Crop—The Anti-Saloon Movement—The Indian Troubles Ended

PHILADELPHIA, Sept 1[illegible]—As the result of the [illegible] on the part of the chief magistrates of the thirteen original states, seven governors of as many commonwealths met here to-day to arrange for a fitting observance of the centennial anniversary of the promulgation of the constitution of the United States. Ten states were represented. New Hampshire, Massachusetts and North Carolina were not represented, but probably will be to-morrow. The following governors were present: Pattison of Pennsylvania, [illegible] of Virginia, [illegible] of Maryland, Stockly of Delaware, Wetmore of Rhode Island, McDaniel of [illegible], Sheppard of South Carolina. New York was represented by a committee of the state legislature and Connecticut by [illegible]. [illegible] At the Continental hotel Gov. Pattison delivered [illegible] of address of welcome. There were present [illegible] many [illegible] visitors in the [illegible] committee of entertainment. [illegible] the party drove down Chestnut street to [illegible] state house. Here the party halted in the room where the declaration of independence was [illegible] and [illegible] listened to an address of welcome by Mayor Smith. [illegible] Carpenters' hall [illegible] where the first colonial congress [illegible] provinces being represented was [illegible] visited. At this [illegible] the governor [illegible] table near the [illegible] one of the [illegible] members of Carpenters' company of the city and [illegible] Philadelphia [illegible] and the [illegible] briefly reviewed the history of the [illegible] meeting place. [illegible] then delivered an oration.

A [illegible] meeting of the governors was called [illegible] by Gov. Pattison. Gov. Lee of Virginia was [illegible] to the chair and Carson was elected [illegible]. Letters were read from the governors of North Carolina, New Hampshire and Massachusetts regretting their inability to be present, and assuring the governors of their sympathy with the movement.

Col. J. F. Peyton, who originated the idea of the celebration and who has charge of the arrangements, was invited to the stand to make any suggestions which might have occurred to him. The colonel in reply said that it would be a good idea to have every state in the Union represented at the celebration next September by a regiment of soldiers. It seemed to him that the young men in the various states would gladly avail themselves of the opportunity to participate in the celebration.

On motion of Gov. Pattison the organization was made permanent. The governor suggested also that a committee consisting of the governors of thirteen states and representative citizens from those states be appointed to prepare a plan for the celebration.

On motion of Gov. Stockly of Delaware the chair appointed a committee consisting of five members to draft a plan. The governors of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Rhode Island, Maryland and Georgia were appointed. [illegible] recess was then taken to enable the committee to prepare the plan.

RESOLUTIONS

During the session in Carpenters' hall resolutions were adopted that each state and territory be invited to unite in preparing for a proper national celebration of the adoption of the federal constitution to be held in this city in September of next year, and that the president be invited to formally communicate to congress at their next meeting the fact that his administration closes a century of constitutional government, and to urge upon that body the propriety of taking measures to render the celebration worthy of an occasion of such dignity and importance that the executive of every state and territory in the Union be formally communicated with and urged to press [illegible] the attention of his people the fitness of hearty co-operation. A resolution was also passed requesting that delegates from the different states and territories be requested to meet in December next to organize a permanent organization worthy of the event. Resolutions were also adopted looking to the appointment of a committee of citizens to co-operate with the permanent organization and extending sympathy to earthquake sufferers in South Carolina.

THE READING RAILROAD

The Long Fight Over Reorganization at Last Terminated

PHILADELPHIA, Sept 1[illegible]—The protracted fight for possession and reorganization of the Reading Railroad company, waged on one hand by Frank [illegible] Gowen, its president, and his friends, and on the other hand by a reorganization syndicate, at the head of which are Messrs. J. Pierrepont Morgan and J. B. Welsh, was terminated to-day by a formal agreement between the factions upon terms of reorganization. The essential features of the plan are:

First—The present syndicate is to be enlarged by $1,000,000 additional subscription, the company [illegible] syndicate to be increased proportionately to the increase of subscriptions.

Second—The reconstruction trustees are to be increased to thirteen members by the addition of Messrs. Alfred [illegible], R. K. Dow, John Wanamaker and Charles [illegible] Berrie, and to make such changes in the plan of reorganization as said trustees [illegible] think [illegible] provided that the following [illegible] The plan to provide for [illegible] without foreclosure mortgage [illegible] be issued in lieu of the [illegible] mortgages to be given [illegible] for the present mortgage [illegible] of preferred stock [illegible] to have the right to have [illegible] can be legally given [illegible] the character of the company, no foreclosure shall take place [illegible] within sixty days [illegible] then the reorganization [illegible] five years. Unexpected Failure of a San Francisco Firm.

TERRIBLE CRIME AT LOS ANGELES

An Infuriated Man Kills his Wife and her Aged Protector—Boycotters Boycotted—Arrest of a Bad Pair, Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 1[illegible]—[illegible] Baum & Co., wholesale clothiers, No. [illegible] Sansome street, made an assignment to-day to [illegible] Sweet for the benefit of their creditors. The firm is one of the oldest and largest in the city. It consists of Julius Baum, Herr Schrier, who resides here, and Morris Schrier of New York. The failure was totally unexpected [illegible] the cause cannot be [illegible]. [illegible] liabilities [illegible] No accurate information [illegible] as to the assets [illegible] opportunity to arrive at anything [illegible] and the resident members of the firm positively refuse to say anything. It is generally believed, however, that the assets will [illegible] the liabilities, and that the firm will be able to pay [illegible] dollar for dollar.

A MYSTERY

The cause of the failure is even a greater mystery than the amount of the liabilities. [illegible] those persons most intimately acquainted with the firm are utterly unable to assign any reasonable cause for it. Mr. Baum, the senior member, has for many years been considered a very wealthy man, his private means being estimated as high as half a million dollars. He occupies a handsome residence on Van Ness avenue and owns real estate valued at $400,000. [illegible] this a [illegible] balance sheet showed a surplus of assets over liabilities of $[illegible] 00. Their business since then has apparently been prosperous. It is therefore believed that some heavy speculations not connected with the business of the house must have caused the assignment.

It is stated that Mr. Baum has of late been a heavy borrower at the banks, but to what use the money has been applied is not known.

The principal creditors in this city are the London, Paris & American bank, Daniel Meyer, Bank of California and Sather & Co., private bankers. All of these banks are, however, said to be well secured, and their losses, if any, will be light.

The record of real estate transactions [illegible] shows the conveyance by gift of Julius Baum to Sadie Bauer of a lot on Van Ness avenue, south of Bush street, and the sale of same property by Sadie Bauer and her husband to Louis Sloss. It is explained that the property was given to [illegible] year ago and subsequently sold by her and her husband to Louis Sloss, but the transactions were not placed on record at the time. Several days must elapse before a statement of the assets and liabilities can be given.

THE CREDITORS

The following are stated to-night to be the principal creditors in this city: First National Bank $35,000, Daniel Meyer $51,000, I. Cohen $[illegible] 000, [illegible] Hochstader $[illegible] 000, Meyerstein & Lowenberg $30,000, Bank of California $35,000, Heyman [illegible] & Co. $10,000, Nicholas Luning $25,000, Newhall Sons & Co. $20,000, London, Paris and American bank $25,000, [illegible] Sachs $[illegible] 000, Adolph Ross $10,000, B. Schweitzer $10,000, Goldman & Co. $1,000, H. Behrend $[illegible] 000, Sather & Co. bank [illegible] $[illegible],000. Most of these hold security for the amount of their claims, so that although the gross amount of the firm's liabilities is large, no insolvency is manifested. In addition to the foregoing list of creditors there are some few others for small amounts. The bulk of the indebtedness is in the East.

A TERRIBLE CRIME

A Los Angeles Man Kills His Wife and the Aged Man that Protected Her

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1[illegible]—One of the most horrible and atrocious cases of homicide in recent years in this vicinity occurred here about 8 o'clock tonight at 643 South Olive street. Albert Boynton, an English gardener, for some time past has been very abusive in his treatment of his family. When he came to supper to-night he found fault with it and became so rough that his wife took her four small children and went to the house of a neighbor named James B. Kipp. Boynton followed her and tried to induce her to return. She refused to do [illegible]. A few moments after Boynton pushed the door open with a cocked revolver in his hand and without a word shot his wife down, she dying almost instantly. Mr. Kipp, aged 6[illegible], was the next target of the murderer's pistol, and he received a bullet in the [illegible]. He tried to escape and reached the back yard, where he was found dead. Boynton in the [illegible] while found another victim in the person of Nellie Kipp, aged 1[illegible], a bullet entering her abdomen. The wound is probably fatal. Boynton was disarmed by one of the neighbors, attracted by the shooting, and was taken to jail.

Great indignation and excitement exists, and if Boynton had not been placed under the protection of the authorities he would have been lynched.

BOYCOTTERS BOYCOTTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 1[illegible]—An interesting case of the boycotters boycotted occurred here recently between the Retail Poultry Dealers' Protective association and commission merchants. The difficulty arose from the fact that a commission merchant sold poultry to Henry B. Hixon, which was contrary to one of the by-laws of the Retail Poultry Dealers' association, which forbids commission houses to sell poultry to dealers who are not members of the association. The wholesale men unexpectedly turned the fight against the latter, and now refuse to sell to any member of the association until they pledge themselves to vote for repeal of the by-law in question. It is understood that a number of members have already done so, and several have gone further and resigned. At a meeting of the association last night a committee was appointed to confer with commission houses [illegible] settlement of the matter.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE [illegible] OLEOMARGARINE [illegible]

WASHINGTON, Sept 1[illegible]—Some manufacturers of oleomargarine have protested to the treasury department against the construction placed by the internal revenue bureau on the second section relating to the manufacture of that compound. The law imposes on certain component articles of oleomargarine a tax of the same amount it imposes on oleomargarine. It appears that there are a number of firms engaged in the manufacture of oleomargarine whose business is to purchase and combine the various ingredients into the market article, and that the component articles are subject to tax as has been held by the revenue bureau, the result will be to compel these manufacturers to pay double tax, as they are also required by law to place stamps on the finished articles when compounded. It is also stated that certain firms are making large quantities of what is known as "oleo oil," which is sold and used by some as a lubricating oil for machinery. If the strict construction already imposed by the department is adhered to, this material will also be subjected to the tax [illegible] oleomargarine. The matter is now under consideration by the internal revenue bureau, and it is believed that when Commissioner Miller returns the construction that has been placed on the second section of the act will be modified so as to relieve the material from tax.

Circulars have been sent to all collectors requesting information as to the number of oleomargarine factories in each district, average production and other information with a view to adjusting the [illegible] force of the bureau to meet the demands of business when the act shall go into operation.

FROM THE SEAL ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, Sept 1[illegible]—Special Agent Tingle of the treasury department has returned to this city from the Seal islands of Alaska. He left Alaska shortly after the seizures of foreign sealers [illegible] made by Capt. Abbey. In the case of the British vessel Onward, Tingle says that the master of the vessel admitted having killed his catch of seals along the shores of Seal islands. These predatory sealers, he says, make a practice of stealing [illegible] under cover of fogs and clubbing seals, which are then tossed into boats and conveyed on board ship to be skinned. Large numbers of seals are also shot, and this practice is particularly destructive from the fact that three of every four animals shot sink and can not be recovered. Notwithstanding these losses, the agent says seal life is increasing with great rapidity. The agent was not inclined to discuss the legality of the seizures already made.

WASHINGTON, Sept 1[illegible]—The Evening Star prints a statement to the effect that Secretary Manning will go to Austria as United States minister instead of returning to the treasury department. Porter as first assistant secretary of state. Bayard says, however, that he has never heard of such an appointment being contemplated.

THE SOLUTION MUST WAIT

Of the anti-saloon convention held at Chicago one thing can be said with certainty, to wit: Its "findings" will not satisfy the third party prohibitionists. These people are committed to a single method of dealing with the liquor question in all places, without regard to variety of circumstances. They will not take into consideration such incidents as difference in ideas and habits of people in town and country, or variation of characteristics growing out of [illegible] and nationality of peoples of diverse origin, distributed throughout the states of a continent. But they stoutly insist that prohibitory laws are the be-all and end-all of effort to minimize the social, political and [illegible] evils which either have their origin in the [illegible] traffic, or are fostered by it.

The "plat[illegible]" [illegible] seems to favor [illegible] the best practical way of dealing with the liquor question [illegible] action as may [illegible] to the circumstances or conditions that may be found to exist in particular localities. In other words, the question is a local one. In a rural state it may be possible to get a prohibitory law, and to enforce it with some sort of efficiency. But in a state abounding in great cities or large towns, where the [illegible] ing of this law would be impracticable, then taxation of the liquor traffic carried to as high a point as might be found practicable, would be the judicious thing. In pursuance of the idea of getting the best results that circumstances would allow, the principle of local action might be carried to the extent of referring regulation of the subject to local communities, as in so many southern states they now have county prohibition or high license, as the people of each determine the best and most effective method for themselves.

All this is fairly implied in the platform of the "anti saloon" people. It is reasonable, and in time it will probably be accepted as the best thing that can be done in dealing with an extremely difficult question. But at present the suggestion will go for naught, because it suits neither extreme of opinion. The third party prohibitionists are not the sort who "take suggestion as the cat laps milk," unless the suggestion be of a kind that will minister to their own pride of opinion, while the liquor sellers generally never will yield assent to the doctrine, until they are forced to do so, that the business they are in can not and should not stand on the same basis as all other business.

It will probably be many years before the actual conditions and limitations of this problem are well understood and generally acknowledged. Between the idea of absolute prohibition on the one hand, without regard to any of the circumstances that may render it fairly practicable in some localities and utterly hopeless in others, and the contention on the other that the business should be as free as any other from restriction or limitation, there is no chance as yet for agreement. Consequently the liquor business will have things for a long time yet very much its own way. Years must elapse, as it now appears, before sentimental prohibitionists can be brought to see that an inflexible rule, an iron-clad method of action, will not answer. Meantime, as a consequence of their effort, the party least favorable to restriction of the liquor traffic will be kept in power. Loyalty to the memory of the great rebellion will keep the South "solid" for the democratic party for an indefinite period, though the South, by treating the liquor question as a local matter, will greatly restrict the traffic. While in the North the course of the third party prohibitionists, who refuse to consider anything but prohibition anywhere, and who carry their idea into state and national elections, will weaken the forces that might otherwise contend with success for such restrictions as are actually attainable. In the North the democratic party pronounces distinctly against prohibition or restrictive laws, and this is the national policy of the party, for the South, though it believes largely in prohibition and enforces it far more widely than the North is ever likely to do, will not abandon the democratic party because of that party's avowed alliance in the North with the liquor traffic, but will still adhere to it through sentimental devotion to the memory of the rebellion, knowing that it can do this without sacrificing prohibition, since it can maintain prohibition as a local issue, no matter what the Northern section of the party may do about it.

What then is to be done? Nothing—at least nothing but to wait. After some years of futile effort in pressing this issue as a political and national one—say ten or twenty years, during which the liquor traffic will have little real molestation—the third party prohibitionists may perhaps begin to see that this is a question for local action, according to particular circumstances of various localities, and then the thing that is practicable, and therefore the thing that is wise, may be attempted and accomplished. In general, this will probably be prohibition in rural communities, and high taxation, with restrictive or repressive regulations of various degrees in cities and large towns.

The report of the operations of the Northern Pacific for its last fiscal year, just given to the public, shows a large increase of aggregate business. The increase, however, is wholly from local freight. On through freight there is the heavy loss of $[illegible], as compared with the business of the next preceding year. A proportion of this loss is no doubt the result of the cut on through rates, but this will not account for it all. Portland has furnished the Northern the larger share of its through freight, and no small part of this reduction represents what the stockholders of the Northern have been obliged to contribute during the past year to the [illegible] of Tacoma. Otherwise the loss on through freight, in the face of the great increase [illegible], could not have been nearly so great. [illegible] pay a railroad to have favorite towns. Efforts of certain magnates of the Northern [illegible] Portland in order to [illegible] Tacoma [illegible] property which, if not discontinued, will cost the road more than Tacoma is worth even at its own excessive valuation. It never is good business for a railroad to [illegible] itself to be used to "boom" a town. [illegible] it loses business at other places, which cannot be disabused of their prejudice that they have a right to exist. It is extremely unfortunate that the Northern, toward which, as our first transcontinental road, both Portland and Seattle have felt very kindly, should have had its name and influence used by speculators inside of its organization for an effort to do injury to Portland and Seattle by belittling their position and importance, and by claiming that Tacoma was destined, under the favor of a great transcontinental road, to supplant them in the business of the Northwest and push them to the wall. The intelligent managers of a great railway ought to know, without having to learn it from experience, that such a policy could not be other than injurious to the regular and legitimate business of their road. We should be glad to see the detractors of Portland and of Seattle and the "boomers" of Tacoma connected with the Northern Pacific, learn discretion and wisdom on this point. Portland and Seattle are not going to be crowded out, and it is not in human nature to suppose that they could receive, kindly and without protest, the talk of Mr C B Wright and his associates in the Northern Pacific that they are going to build up, through the power of the railroad in which they have large influence, a city that will speedily overshadow them in the business of the Northwest.

THE COURTS.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT DEPARTMENT NO 1

[illegible] Bros vs. J Haas et al — Time in which to file answer extended until Monday, the 20th inst.

Joseph Coblentz et al vs. S Schneider—Time in which to file an answer extended to and including Monday, September 20.

F P O'Brien vs. Edward Martin—On trial before a jury. This is an action brought by O'Brien to recover $300, which he alleges he loaned Martin and a claim of $70 due by Martin to Hazele Crow and by the latter assigned to O'Brien for collection. Defendants deny that the loan was made. The trial of the case had not been concluded at the time of the adjournment of court.

DEPARTMENT NO 2

Judge Stearns will announce his decision to day in the following cases: R J Rowland vs Carrie J [illegible]; F E Beach et al. vs. Carrie Hibbard et al and John Schmeer et al. vs. Anna Schmeer. [illegible] G. Thwaites vs. Joseph Thwaites, suit for divorce, plaintiff allowed to amend complaint.

State vs. Ah Doo, larceny of a watch from T [illegible], tried by jury found guilty and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. This makes four years for Mr Doo, the first two being for stealing a box of cigars from the store of Sealy, Mason & Co.

CASES APPEALED

In the case of Edward Martin vs Thos. Martin a notice of appeal to the supreme court has been filed from the decree of the state circuit court rendered March 11 1886 allowing J A Taggart the same salary as receiver and that all sums heretofore paid him as receiver as salary be deducted from the sum as allowed and from the whole thereof.

In the case of Lee Hoffman vs J B Montgomery, L W Bingham and John DeCorsey, defendants appeal to the supreme court from so much of the decree entered June 30 by the state circuit court as confirms the report of the referee that said plaintiff recover of J B. Montgomery $27,849 84.

THE CITY WINS

The case of J R E. Selby and other policemen against the city of Portland to recover back salaries on account of alleged unlawful removal from the force was given to the jury at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. After some three hours deliberation they brought in a sealed verdict, the court having retired for the night. Report based on good authority is that the verdict is in favor of the city.

TRYING TO COLLECT JUDGMENTS.

Yesterday in the state circuit court suit was commenced by J D Clampet, W E Brainerd and Henry Hassler against W D Prettyman and M E Prettyman and D N Williamson. Some time ago numerous suits were brought against the Prettymans and quite a number of judgments obtained against them. Among them, one in favor of Clampet, January 20 last, for $91 41, another on January 2, for $800. One in favor of Brainerd for $287, one in Hassler's favor for $800 and one in favor of W H Merrick, January 18 1886 for $215. The principal cause of complaint by Clampet, Brainerd and Hassler plaintiffs in the present action, is that October 13 1885 and previous to their obtaining these judgments, the Prettymans executed a promissory note for $5660 to D N Williamson secured by a mortgage on certain property. This, it is alleged, was done with intention to defraud, and plaintiffs whose judgments have not been satisfied pray the court to restrain Williamson from transferring the note or foreclosing the mortgage, etc., and for such other relief as may be just and equitable.

Cholera, dysentery and diarrhœa come with the summer imprudence in fruit diet. Infection and sudden checks of perspiration cause these complaints. On the first symptom take four or five Brandreth Pills and drink plentifully of hot water and you are safe. If you wish to render the body a fortress against disease take one or two Brandreth Pills every night for ten days and thus remove from the bowels all irritating substance and purify the blood.

The "Standard Chamberlin" is the only shot gun cartridge made on an AUTOMATIC cartridge loading machine, run by steam power and is the only absolutely perfect cartridge in the market. LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FERTILE DESERT.—A cattle man who has lately visited that part of southeastern Oregon commonly known as the desert, being the northern end of the great American desert, was very favorably impressed with the future prospects of that section. It is not a desert at all, being covered with a luxuriant growth of grass and comprising large tracts of fertile soil. The "desert" is eighty miles wide, sloping a little from each side toward the center. In the low portion there is a string of shallow lakes which dry up in the summer time. The only thing needful to make this tract fit for settlement is water, which can probably be procured by [illegible]. At present herds of cattle feed out on the desert for eight or ten miles and stay [illegible] then they come racing back to where they can get water. Then they loaf around the water for a day or so before they start out to graze again. With this racing and thirsting they keep themselves poor. As soon however as the rains come the cattle fatten on the rich grasses of the desert. The proposed extension of the O [illegible] railroad runs across the end of this tract and it is more than likely that in a few years this desert will be transformed into fertile farms and literally made to blossom like a rose.

MAKING A GOOD ROAD.—One of the greatest needs of this state is good roads. As a general thing the roads throughout the country are villainous in the winter. In some places from [illegible] but in more places from lack of knowledge [illegible] the matter of road building. J W K[illegible] supervisor on the [illegible] Valley road has [illegible] [illegible] This district has been greatly reduced [illegible] it looks as if the $60 now to be expended on it will be more benefit than the thousands expended in past years.

FEMALE SMUGGLER CONVICTED.—Mrs Clara Murdock, arrested a short time since at Port Townsend on a charge of smuggling opium, was arraigned at Seattle on Wednesday. Her attorney entered a plea of guilty and the judge fined her $100 or in default of the payment to serve fifty days in the U. S. penitentiary. The prisoner is a woman of about 35 years, tall, graceful, with dark blue eyes and pleasant ingratiating demeanor. She admits that she has been the dupe of one dishonorable man who have made her a tool. She has been frequently engaged in like conduct and says that the trip in which she was detected was her last. Had it [illegible] she have been successful she would have netted $1 00. She is a handsome woman and broke down in great grief at her sentence. It seems she has been traveling on the Seattle-Victoria steamers with a dress fitted with long inside pockets in which she concealed half pound cans of opium. Circumstances having aroused the suspicions of Customs Inspector Frank Boarman, he concluded after some investigation to have her arrested with the result as stated above.

AFTER THE GAMBLERS.—There is a little excitement in police circles at Salem. If they had a board of police commissioners there matters might run more smoothly. At a recent meeting of the council the attention of the police was called to the violation of the ordinance relative to gambling and they were ordered to suppress the same. Officer Cavanaugh in obedience to the orders started out night before last to arrest violators of the act. Marshal Harbord, finding Cavanaugh off his beat, at once suspended him and relieved him of his star. Cavanaugh appealed to the council and at a special meeting held last evening he was reinstated and Capt. James Mead and policeman Lynch suspended for non performance of their duty for not arresting parties for gambling upon the complaint of private citizens. A raid was made at a late hour Thursday night and five of the sporting fraternity were arrested, while dozens made themselves scarce before morning. More sport is anticipated.

EASILY SATISFIED.—Rudolph Beck, a milliner at Salmon and First, was tried before Justice Little yesterday on two charges of assault and battery preferred by Dr Bertha Newman. It seems that eight days ago the Beck and Newman children took to throwing stones at one another in the yard. Beck interfered and Mrs Newman says whipped her child. Beck says he simply took the child out by the arm. This case was dismissed and No. [illegible] called. Mrs Newman and Beck after the children's quarrel was over had a pitched battle on their own account. Beck says she struck him and she alleged that Beck responded. Each claimed the other was the aggressor and Justice Little settled the matter by fining them $5 each. They paid their fines and departed seemingly satisfied.

PROGRESSIVE.—AN OREGONIAN representative had occasion to pass out F street yesterday and when in front of Irving's soap works he was called in to see the improvements made subsequent to a previous visit to this old established institution. Mr Irving showed the recent innovations intended to lessen work and expedite the production of soaps—an article found to be absolutely necessary to every well regulated household. The Oregon soaps' brand is even known back East and no better compliment could be bestowed upon it. Future improvements are thought of and THE OREGONIAN, always ready to tell of an industry that will cause employment of men and keep money right here, will make known the same the moment Mr Irving is ready to divulge.

SUES FOR DAMAGES.—Daniel Curtis yesterday libeled the British bark Noddleburn and Joseph Hogg master in the U. S. court to recover a balance of wages alleged to be due him and also to recover damages in the sum of $5000. He alleges that when a seaman on board the Noddleburn on her voyage to this port he was sent aloft to pass the topgallant staysail sheets over the middle stay and that while standing upon a crane line it broke, being unsound and unsafe, and he fell to the deck a distance of thirty feet, and broke his ankle. He further charges that the captain failed to treat or care for his injury as the case required, wherefore he claims the sum of $5000 damages.

STOCK YARD COMPANY INCORPORATED.—Articles of incorporation of the Portland Stock Yard company were filed in the office of the county clerk by W B Gilbert, Robert Bell and J H Rathbun. Objects the carrying on and conducting of the general business of a stock yard, for receiving, caring and disposing of cattle. To purchase or lease suitable houses, ships, boats, railroads, etc. To receive and store sheep, hogs and cattle. To sell the same on commission or make advances on consignments. Capital stock $20 000 divided into 200 shares of the value of $100 each; principal place of business Portland.

LIKE OLD TIMES.—Mining excitements are becoming plentiful. The extraordinary rich specimens from Starve Out, exhibited yesterday, created great excitement, and it is said that some thirty or forty persons will leave to-day for that section. They have an excitement at La Camas and twenty men left there at midnight Thursday for the vicinity of a new mineral find in Skamania county, W. T., the exact location of which they kept a profound secret. That all may strike it rich is the wish of those left behind. We need a few really rich mines just at this juncture and it seems as if they are in the cards.

CALLED BACK.—Early yesterday morning Sheriff Jordan caused the arrest of Hans Stenell at the [illegible] house on a telegram from The Dalles charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. Stenell states that he borrowed $[illegible]0 from a restaurant keeper at The Dalles and on the [illegible] he left there he was unable to find the [illegible] so he concluded to forward the money from here but was arrested before he had an opportunity to do so. The sheriff of Wasco county came down after Stenell and took him up on the afternoon train.

SLIPPED ON A SLIPPERY SLIP.—There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip and likewise on the wharves along the city front. A rather amusing one occurred at Ainsworth dock yesterday. Two men who were repairing a slip there slipped down [illegible]. One went slick into the river. As he [illegible] caught on the pantaloons of the other and ripped its way along till it came to the waistband which held and suspended him in a doubled up position with his head and feet in the water. He was rescued before he had time to drink the river dry.

COMMENCED BUILDING.—Mr A L Miner has his new residence at St Johns nearly closed in and his family will move to that place in a few days, remaining in another house temporarily until the new one is completed. Mr Miner is the gentleman who purchased 100 acres at St Johns. He is a manufacturer and his projects are looked forward to with interest. He is not a boomer but when he does begin on his workshops he will proceed with caution. His enterprises, it is hoped, will be successful.

LARCENY BY BAILEE.—A sailor named August Padderson put in an appearance at police headquarters yesterday afternoon and made complaint that W W Roberts had two blankets, one shirt and other clothing belonging to him and refused to deliver over the same on demand. At Padderson's request a warrant was issued for the arrest of Roberts for larceny by bailee. Roberts was brought in last night and released from custody on putting up $50 as bail.

JAPANESE TOURISTS COMING.—Mr M Fugle, business manager of Marshal's Japanese Tourists, arrived here yesterday. The troupe opens at New Market October 11th. They are twelve in number and have lately come to this country, being now in their fourth week in San Francisco to crowded houses. They have the smallest All Right in the world and are very clever in their acts.

FRANCHISE ACCEPTED.—Walter Burrell, president of the Transcontinental street railway company, yesterday filed with the auditor and clerk notice of the acceptance by the company of the franchise granted by the city under ordinance No 4964. The franchise is for a street railway from Third down Yamhill to Front, along Front to Morrison and up Morrison to Third.

PIE SOCIABLE.—This evening at Hall street church a pie sociable is held. A good programme of music. An enjoyable time may be expected. All invited. Admittance 25 cents.

BASEBALL to-day at the Oaks between the University nine and the Stars. This will be an interesting game. Admission, 25 cents, both ladies and gents.

You will never realize the great benefit Hood's Sarsaparilla will do you till you give it a fair trial.

Think of It!

Do you like to have bills poked at you all the time? There are hundreds here in Portland who think it's fun to have a poor collector running after him, and then putting him off about paying a bill; others again are in a position that they would like to pay these bills, but have not the money to pay them with.

Think of It!

Don't you know that, as a rule, you have to pay more for goods that are charged in most stores that have different prices for everyone?

Think of It!

We have but one price, and that marked in plain figures on every article; but we ain't doing a credit business, and don't propose to wear out shoe leather in collecting bills.

Think of It!

We can sell cheaper and do sell cheaper than any other house, and the reason of it is WE SELL FOR CASH, and don't want big profits. We are satisfied with a small, honest profit, and we give you better value than others.

Think of It!

When you come in my store you are never put off with the old rusty phrase, 'That we'll have it next steamer; sorry we are just out of the article.'

Our stock is always complete. We never let our stock run down. New goods are arriving daily, and the very latest MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING, FURNISHING GOODS, etc., can always be found at my store.

My Fall Stock

Is now all in, and not being of the bragging kind, I leave it to the public to call and see for themselves whether it is a fine stock or a poor one. NO TROUBLE TO SHOW GOODS. Plenty of salesmen and polite attention to all.

Benton's Hair Grower.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF or ITCHING of the scalp should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years; we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 80 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations it contains no sugar of lead or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

Price, single strength $1. If your druggists have not got it we will send it prepaid on receipt of price.

THE STATE FAIR.

Mamie Comet Lowers the Record Trotting in 2 23 1-4.

A Splendid Running Race, Repetta Winning—The Stock Parade—The Premium List Completed—Notes

SALEM, Sept 17—This has been the best day of the fair both for attendance and sport. Trains arriving both north and south were crowded and hundreds came in wagons. Up to last night the receipts amounted to $15 08[illegible], not including the $5000 from the state treasury. This is more than the total receipts of the last fair. The expense has been somewhat heavier this year but there is certain to be a handsome margin after all bills are paid.

The big event of the day was the performance of Mamie Comet. She made the last heat in [illegible] which lowers the record of three years ago by Dexter of 2 24[illegible], until to-day the best time ever made in Oregon. Comet is a sorrel of good sire and matron, and trots like a machine. She is 4 years old, by Nutwood, he by Hambletonian. After the race to-day she was bought by Quimby of Portland for $3[illegible]00.

The speed judges are enforcing strict discipline, greatly to the surprise of drivers and others who have been accustomed to drive about as they pleased. To-day Misner was fined $[illegible] for springing out in violation of the rules. He refused to pay and was ruled off. Putting another driver in his place, this man in turn was fined $10 for disobeying the order of the judges in the matter of scoring for the start in the third heat.

The gamblers who were banished from the fair ground set up for business in Salem, but were raided last night by the police, who arrested the principals and broke up their games.

Pickpockets are faring better than the [illegible], having made several fine strikes during the [illegible]. Among the victims to-day was Judge W H Adams of Portland, who was cleaned out of the [illegible] and [illegible] his purse.

THE [illegible]

The first race was a running race for [illegible] one-eighth dash. [illegible] Winters, Repetta, Tom Daly, Jim Merritt and Why Not were entered. Starters: Repetta 1[illegible] pounds, Jim Merritt 11[illegible] pounds, Tom Daly 10[illegible] pounds, Geo Winters 11[illegible] pounds. Why Not was withdrawn at the last moment. A full half hour was consumed in scoring, all of which tended to tire Merritt and Winters. At last however they got a good start. Repetta at once took the lead and was never headed, Merritt right at her saddle, Winters and Daly together. All four raced around to the three-quarter post in the above order, when Daly came up with a rush, collared Winters and then Merritt. At the mile all were whipping except Repetta's rider, and continued on, passing under the wire at a flogging finish. Repetta won by a length, Daly second, Winters third and Merritt last. Time: [illegible] quarter [illegible] one half [illegible] seven-eighths [illegible] one and three-eighths [illegible] mile [illegible].

MATCH RACE

The next race was a match race, half mile, $100 a side, between W. W. Terrell's gray mare Flavella and Tartar's black gelding King. Catch weights. Pools were selling Flavella $[illegible], King $10, and not much money at that. They got a good start, Flavella taking the lead from the word and increasing it all the way round, coming under the wire an easy winner. Time 50[illegible].

THE EVENT OF THE DAY

The next race was the 2 45 class trotting, best three in five heats. Mamie Comet driven by Hogoboom, Coquetta driven by Peach and Cora H driven by C Misner were the starters, Sassie S and Metropolitan being drawn.

First heat—The pools were selling Mamie $[illegible], Coquetta $12, Cora H $4. The start was good as between Coquetta and Cora H, with Mamie a length behind. She shot ahead however, and took the lead at the first turn, and at the half was ten lengths ahead of Cora, the latter in turn being an equal distance ahead of Coquetta, who broke frequently. These relative positions were maintained to the finish. Cora came in two lengths after Mamie and Coquetta two lengths behind Cora. Coquetta made a fine burst of speed down the home stretch, but broke before reaching the wire. Time [illegible]. Just before the start Misner, the driver of Cora, was fined $10 for stopping to sponge out.

Second heat—This heat was taken by Mamie in [illegible]. Coquetta came in second and Cora third. In this heat Cora had a new driver, Misner having refused to pay his fine and being ruled off.

Third heat—Again Mamie took the lead and held it to the finish, both Coquetta and Cora distanced. Time [illegible]3¼. The time by quarters was: first quarter [illegible], half [illegible], three quarters [illegible].

THE HORSE PARADE

In the morning at 10 o'clock in the large open space between the pavilion and the race track the blue and red ribbon horses were led around in a large circle, stopping every few moments to give the crowd a chance to notice and admire the fine points of the animals. It was a magnificent display of fine horses. The heavy draft horses attracted the most attention. All were fine samples of horse flesh, each having some particular point of excellence. The thoroughbred also drew forth a great many exclamations of admiration. Some fifty horses were on exhibition. The circular form preserved in the parade, the occasional charging and cavorting of some of the more high spirited animals, the large ring of spectators and above all the enlivening strains of the band made the scene seem like an open air circus, not of the present, but of years ago, when a circus was an exhibition of fine horses and bareback riding.

IN GENERAL

Of course there have been the usual number of fake games, such as the shooting gallery, thimble riggers, the merry-go-round, refreshment booths, etc., all over the grounds. One enterprising fellow, or rather pair of fellows, have something new however, which seems to catch the crowd. One of the men blackens his face and stands with his head through a hole in a large piece of canvas held up by poles. His partner stands at a little table about twenty feet in front of the canvas and tempts the unwary farmer, in the usual fakir style, to come up and take his chance—three chances—to throw a ball at the negro's head for a dime, and if you hit the coon's head a fine Havana flavored cigar is your prize. It's not as easy as it looks, however, and most of the fine Havanas go to the fakirs. The device used by the owner of the merry-go-round to entice the unsuspecting is also rather unique if old fashioned. He sits on an inverted barrel and grinds out Irish jigs, the Arkansaw Traveler, and a number of other mellow old tunes on a wheezy three stringed fiddle. All are good natured, and by their several methods add rather than detract from the general attractiveness of the fair.

An Offensive Breath

Is most distressing not only to the person afflicted if he have any pride, but to those with whom he comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends, but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseparable. Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases, as thousands can testify.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Americans in China Suffer at the Hands of a Mob.

THEIR HOMES DESTROYED BY FIRE

Attempt to Murder the Premier of Roumania—Racing Events in England—The Revolution in Honduras—Etc.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Minister Denby at Pekin has reported to the secretary of state two cases of recent outrages perpetrated by Chinese upon Americans. Rev. A. A. Fulton and wife and Miss Mary Fulton, M. D., of the American Presbyterian mission in China, established a mission hospital and station at Kwai Ping, about 400 miles southwest from Canton. When they had expended a considerable sum in putting up buildings, placards appeared on the walls declaring that the foreign devils must go in three days, and their buildings be destroyed. The literati, as usual, were at the bottom of the disturbance. A crowd gathered near the hospital and Fulton set out to secure protection of the militia. He was stoned on his way and not permitted to return, and no officers were sent to protect the mission. On May [illegible] the mob piled straw and faggots against the buildings occupied by Mrs. and Miss Fulton and the little daughter of the former, upon which the inmates fled and the house was looted and burned. The ladies sought refuge on boats, but the mob threatened to destroy any boat that should receive them, and after some delay they reached a point where Fulton had been compelled to remain. Two days later they were put on boats and conveyed to Canton. The value of the property destroyed is about $[illegible]00, and Consul Seymour is pressing a demand for payment of this amount in damages.

Two cases of still more recent date are also reported. On Sunday, June [illegible], in the absence of all the gentlemen connected with the Methodist Episcopal mission hospital at Chung King, and while [illegible] ladies were present, a mob collected, broke down [illegible] and threw stones at the ladies, one of which cut open her index finger its entire length, while [illegible] otherwise injured about the head and arms. Complaint was made to the officials [illegible] slightly.

THE [illegible] TROUBLE

[illegible] OF ALEXANDER

[illegible] of Prince Alexander's property [illegible] the whole [illegible] National [illegible] the [illegible] the deputies and left the chamber [illegible] protesting against [illegible] of the proposition. After an absence of five minutes the obstreperous member [illegible] in the meantime had his intentions changed, the deputies returned and passed the appropriation unanimously.

It transpires that when the president of the assembly handed the Russian agent at Sofia the Sobranje's telegram to the czar praying for his friendship and protection, the agent said he hoped now that the main obstacle to good relations between Russia and Bulgaria was removed the czar would accept the petition and answer it favorably.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE A PREMIER

BUCHAREST, Sept 1[illegible]—M. Bratirino, Roumanian prime minister, was shot at last evening by an assassin. He perceived the man's intention in time to spring out of the path of his aim. The bullet struck Robesco, a member of the chamber of deputies, and wounded him. After the assassin was arrested and locked up he confessed that for political reasons he intended to kill Bratirino. The weapon used was a pistol.

The attempt to assassinate Bratirino has produced great excitement among the people. Crowds surrounded the building occupied by the newspaper here which has been opposing the prime minister, blamed it for inflaming a hostile feeling against him, and smashed all the furniture and fittings belonging to the concern. They savagely attacked and wounded two members of the staff, and were proceeding to enter the edifice when the police became masters of the situation and dispersed the mob. Afterward the crowd attempted to lynch the prisoner, but were foiled by the police.

THE CASE OF THE ADAMS

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept 1[illegible]—Testimony was taken to-day in the case of the American schooner David J. Adams, seized last May for violation of the fishery laws. At the opening of the court, Meagher, counsel for the United States, protested against the presence of reporters, but the commissioner declared that he had no authority to remove them. As they were leaving the room at the close of the session they were all served with subpoenas in the case, the intention being to exclude them for the session, under the law preventing witnesses from hearing testimony of other witnesses in the same case. The reporters employed counsel and will make a fight to prevent their exclusion to-morrow morning. Meagher says he will exclude them or break up the meeting. The matter created a sensation. Among witnesses sworn to-day was one who testified that Capt. Kenney of the Adams bought four barrels of bait and four tons of ice and bargained for his next morning's catch of bait, saying he wanted twenty barrels. Both bait and ice were delivered on board the Adams. The vessel had a piece of canvas hanging over her stern which concealed part of the name, exposing [illegible]. This evidence was corroborated.
